SUCCESSFUL

Was the Entertainment Given For the Benefit of the Methodist Church.

The Citizens of Marion Greet the "Singing Skule Begiment" With Packed House.

The "Singing Skule Begiment" given at the opera house Monday night under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church, was two and a half hours of innocent fun, interspersed with bits of choicest song. The costumes of the "skollars" and "teachers" were very unique, and some were extremely ridiculous and amusing. Dr. F. W. Nunn, as Samuel Weller, Geo. M. Crider, as Hickory Jones, C. S. Nunn, as Hezekiah Bumples, and Prof. Chas. Evans, as Meehack Joselin, were very comically attired, while D. B. Kevil, Virgil Moore, Maurice Sutherland, Emmett Koltinsky, and Miss Hilda Schwab, carrying the roles of Zebulon Toodles, Yellow Kid, Tommy Doodle, Darius Catch-a-Fly and Polly Rumpus, respectively, kept the audience in a continual uproar of side-splitting laughter.

To take up the beautiful features of the entertainment, Mehitabel Spooner and Miranda Want-to-marry, impersonated by Misses Leaffa Wilborn and Nelle Walker, were too sweet for anything. Ira Pierce, as Willie Winkie, could be considered in this class also.

Rube Spanks, in the person of J. Watts Lamb, annoyed Mister Robbins and amused the audience by very frequently asking permission to get a drink of water. Zebulon Toodles interrupted the "Begiment" quite often through his anxiety to display his musical talent on the violin.

Splendid vocal selections were rendered by Miss Gustava Haynes, as Rorianna Gigglesby, and Mrs. Fannie Walker, as Priscilla Hamtree. Angelina Turvedrop's "Ask the Stars," by little Miss Anna Haynes and "klass," was well executed. Mrs. Roy Gilbert, as Mercy Tweekins, and Mister Robbins gave the audience a laughable duet, but it turned out badly inasmuch as it aroused the bitterest jealousy in the heart of Mister Robbins. The outburst of jealousy finally subsided, however, whereupon Mister Robbins granted Mercy a full pardon and gave her consent for Jeremiah to assist Charity Bumpkins, Miss Sallie Woods, in the rendition of a Coon song entitled "Kumpany B," which was added to in interest by a comic drill.

Mr. and Mrs. James Travis, as Romeo and Juliet Shakespeare, did their parts in a praiseworthy manner, and sang a duet which was pleasing, indeed. A pretty song and drill was given by six of the young ladies.

The entertainment closed with "Auld Lang Syne" and "Dixie" by the entire "skule," and the very large audience went away well pleased.

Miss Lily Doss officiated at the piano and did ample justice to the occasion.

Messrs. Willard and Bertram, who conducted the entertainment, proved themselves to be well up to the task of "teechin' singin' skule," and their associations here have been sufficient to win for them the highest esteem of the citizens of Marion.

The entertainment was a flattering success in every respect, and all who participated acquitted themselves in a manner deserving of the highest praise.

Following are the names of the participants not mentioned above: Misses Ruby James, Della Barnes, Maude and Bernice Driskill, Nellie Boston, Daisy Copher, Mildred Haynes, Ellis Gray, and Rudy Brinson, and Prof. J. R. Brinson.

CONTEST

For the Two Most Popular Young Ladies in Crittenden and Livingston.

Following are the rules governing our Popularity Contest, in which two very handsome and valuable prizes will be awarded the two most successful contestants.

The contest will positively close at 12 o'clock, noon, on July 4, 1905.

Any young lady will be eligible as a contestant, who is nominated by her friends and is supported by their votes.

The two prizes are of equal value, fifty dollars each, and the winning candidate who receives the highest number of votes cast shall have first choice; the other prize will be awarded the young lady receiving the second highest number of votes cast.

Four votes will be allowed with each dollar paid in advance on subscriptions to THE RECORD which may be one or more yearly subscriptions, two semi-annual subscriptions at 50c each, or four quarterly subscriptions at 25c each, but the total when turned in must equal one yearly subscription at $1.

The votes will be deposited in a ballot box which will be under lock and seal until the contest shall have terminated, when a committee will be selected to count the ballots.

The selection of the committee will be left to the most successful contestants, that is, four committeemen will be chosen by the four contestants receiving the highest number of votes, and a fifth will be chosen by majority vote of the other four committeemen. The fifth committeeman will be chairman of the committee, and make the awards to the successful contestants.

A tally will be kept by the editor of THE RECORD of the votes cast and the standing of each contestant will be published in each issue.

The prizes will be kept on exhibition at the jewelry stores; the diamond ring at Stewart's and the gold watch at Cook's.

We had intended furnishing a full description of the prizes, together with cuts, but as they must be seen to be appreciated, we have arranged to keep the prizes on exhibition during the continuance of the contest.

Following is the form of ballot to be used:

I cast ..... votes for Miss ..... as the most popular young lady in the Riccoan's Popularity Contest.

Signed .....

J. A. Hurley Purchases Interest.

J. A. Hurley, formerly a member of the Duvall Transfer Company, has purchased of Gid Taylor the Grant Davidson interest in the Taylor & Davidson brick business and Messrs. Taylor & Hurley have already begun preparations for burning a large amount of brick this year. Last year, Taylor & Davidson burned about 600,000 brick and could not supply the demands made on them. This year Taylor & Hurley expect to have something like 200,000 brick burned by the time operations were begun last year.

BANQUET

Blackwell Lodge No. 57

Knights of Pythias. Held Friday
Evening, February 17.

A Large Number of Knights and Ladies Were Present to Partake of the Bounteous Feast.

Last Friday night around the banquet board Blackwell lodge, No. 57, Knights of Pythias, celebrated the forty-first anniversary of an order whose watch words are Friendship, Charity and Benevolence, and which was founded Feb. 19, 1864 in Washington, D. C. by Rathbone.

According to the order of the evening the brave knights first met at the Pythian Castle Hall with their fair ladies where a pleasant hour was spent and all were entertained according to the arrangements of the reception committee composed of Knights Geo. M. Crider, T. H. Cochran and Wm. A. Ringo. Then all adjourned to the opera house there to be treated to a handsome spread and splendid programme arranged by the committee on entertainment and arrangement which committees, we wish to stop and say, deserve the highest praise for their executive ability.

The menu which had been prepared by W. H. Copher was as follows:

MENU.
Oyster Soup Celery Crackers
Roast turkey with dressing
Cold ham French peas Potato chips
Mustard dressing Cranberry sauce

All responded to their toasts except A. C. Moore. Having been called to Fredonia on Friday to represent a client in a law suit set for Saturday he was unable to be present and his toast was responded to by Jas. E. Price and Jas. E. Crittenden.

The entertainment committee was composed of R. F. Haynes, J. W. Wilson, R. L. Flanary, Gus Taylor and the committee on arrangements was composed of Chas. Evans, H. A. Haynes and J. M. Freeman.

Business Change.

H. F. Morris & Son., have purchased the C. J. Black & Son. grocery and will remove their present stock to the Black stand. They will continue their grocery and restaurant business as heretofore, but will be enabled to do more than twice the amount of business.

The Messrs. Morris came here a few years ago and entered business on a small scale, and have pursued their business strictly on the motto: "Live and let live, be courteous and honest" and for some time they have been doing business under difficulties on account of their room being too small, and were compelled to have more room, hence the purchase of the Black stock.

Clarence Black who has been in charge of the C. J. Black & Son., business here will remain in the city but has not decided what business he will enter.

To the Voters of Crittenden County:

I am a candidate for the office of county attorney subject to the action of the Republican party, and owing to the shortness of time and the further fact that the next term of the circuit court is in March and will prevent me from seeing many of you before the primary, I therefore take this method of saying that I am very anxious to serve you one term as county attorney, believing that I can discharge the duties of the office to the entire satisfaction of the people. Most of the people of this county know me, and my official acts are all matters of public record in the office of the county judge and county court clerk, and are open to the examination of all persons.

Should you give me the nomination and I am elected, as county attorney I will have nothing to do with the levying or fixing the amount of your tax, except in an advisory way, as that is fixed by the State and fiscal court of the county, composed of the county judge and justices of the peace of the county, supervised by the county and State boards of equalization, and the only duty the county attorney has to perform in this matter is to give legal advice when called on by any of the county officials and to represent the interest of the county in any matter coming before the courts or boards in which the county is interested.

If you believe me competent to perform these duties I will very much appreciate your support, and as to whether it is to your interest to vote for me or someone else is a matter I leave for the people to decide for themselves.

If I am given the nomination and elected I promise you that I will use all the energy and ability that I can command to discharge all of the duties of the office faithfully and efficiently, and I will be found at my office at all reasonable hours, unless called away in the discharge of the duties of the office.

Thanking you for past favors and again asking your support in this race, I am

Yours very truly,
J. A. Moore

Deeds Recorded.

W. S. Paris to O. G. Threlkeld, 11 acres on Claylick creek for $435.

A. J. Pickens to G. B. Taylor, two lots in Pickens' addition, No. 3 and 4, $413.40.

G. B. Taylor to J. A. Hurley, 1-2 interest in 6 acres of land near Marion, on which the Taylor brick kiln is located.

Martha B. Evans to T. C. Carter, a small strip of ground on Salem street for $270.

William H. Clark to F. I. Travis, lot No. 20 in Clark's addition for $300.

W. D. Brantley to Levy Sigler, 22 1-2 acres on Piney creek for $375.

Mary A. Crider to T. E. Custard, undivided interest in land on Piney Fork of Tradewater for $650.

Walter Flanary to Simon Station, undivided 1-2 one 1-11 interest in 11 acres of land for $3.

J. W. Sullenger to B. L. Sullenger, undivided interest in 150 acres for $175.

J. H. McMican to W. N. Travis, 73 3-4 acres on Piney creek for $950.

Trial Set for Friday.

The examining trial of Dr. F. G. LaRue, of Smithland, charged with shooting Blount Hodge, the pilot, is set for today, but Hodge will not be able to attend and the case will be continued. The trial will attract many people, and it is predicted the doctor will be acquitted. Until young Hodge can attend court, Dr. LaRue will appear before County Judge Evans every ten days. He is under bond and this is the first appearance.

LEAD

Product of this District

By Expert Test. Makes First Class Gun Shot.

Greater Lead Production Anticipated
this Year—Warmer Weather
Renews Activities.

The question has quite frequently arisen as to whether the lead of this district would make gun shot, and through the efforts of J. E. Wright, of the State Geological survey, samples of lead have been shipped to Eastern capitalists and their experiments reveal the fact a product can be manufactured from Crittenden county lead that is fully equal to the standard produced from the lead of Montana, Colorado, and other western States. These facts will be of considerable interest to Eastern capitalists, as they will be enabled to secure an ore several hundred miles nearer, saving a considerable amount in the way of freight costs. It is expected that there will be greater activity in this district this year than there has ever been heretofore, and in view of the fact that some of the mining properties carry a large percentage of lead ore, the output of this product will be at least three times as much as heretofore. We have been informed by the operators of some of the leading properties that the percentage of lead obtained heretofore has been sufficient to pay operating expenses, and if this amount is trebled the output of lead ore will be reaching a place of somewhat equal importance with our zinc and spar products, and will be very much in demand in the East on account of its proximity to that market.

The loading of gravel fluorspar at Mexico was somewhat handicapped last week on account of the extreme cold weather. With the warm weather that is prevalent this week, and the enlivened activity in various lines of business, there is considerable activity in the mining business. The shipments last week were as follows:

5 cars gravel fluorspar 287,130 lbs

4 cars ground " 171,773

Total 458,903 lbs

Nelson H. Snow, of Mineral Point, Wis., was here this week looking after his mining interests. With the present moderate temperature which indicates an earlier spring than has been anticipated, capitalists and mine operators are already assuming an activity that lends color to the belief that exists among many of our leading miners that this year will be the best of all yet.

Joplin, Mo., February 19.—The highest prices reported paid for zinc ore in the Joplin district during the past week was $56 per ton, and the May basis ranged from $51 to $53 per ton of 60 per cent. zinc. Lead brought $57 to $58 per ton.

At the Pogue mines the Marion Mineral Company is rebuilding the damage done there by the fire a few weeks ago and Secretary Crider informs us that they will be ready to resume mining operations by the last of next week.

Messrs. J. D. Poorman, of Chicago, and Chas. F. Driehs, of Cincinnati, were here this week looking at our mining properties and it is suggested that they contemplate becoming interested here.

Charges Against Elsie Trail.

In reference to the charges against E. J. Trail at Paducah, the Sun says:

Police Judge D. L. Sanders had a crowded court room today. The spectators were there to hear the case against E. J. Trail, the barber, charged with alleged criminal assault on a Mrs. Bradford. The case was continued until tomorrow and the court room was quickly vacated after the continuation was ordered. It is said that there is nothing in the case.

It had also been reported that Trail could not fill bond, but Wednesday's Register stated that he had given bond. Trail is from Livingston county and formerly ran a barber shop here.

ORATORICAL CONTEST

At the Opera House Wednesday Evening Was Largely Attended.

At the opera house Wednesday evening five members chosen from the eighth and ninth grades of Marion Graded School contested their oratorical powers for gold and silver medals, as is the annual custom of the school on Washington's birthday. The contestants were Miss Ina Price, subject, "No Monopoly on Patriotism;" Archie Davidson, "The Picket on Duty;" J. H. Yates, "Tekel Upharsin;" Miss Willie Croft, "The Hand of God in American History;" Miss Mary Lou Wilborn, "Marion's Men."

The house was packed and numbers had to remain standing through the exercises. The program was beautifully rendered, the orations now and then being followed by appropriate selections of vocal music rendered by the seventh, eighth and ninth grade girls, or the boys and girls of the lower grades.

The judges who had been selected to decide the merits of the speakers were the five following persons: Senator J. J. Watkins and Prof. H. A. Watkins, of Sturgis; Geo. E. Vaughn, of Dixon; H. C. Rice, of Kelsey, and H. Cummings, of St. Louis.

The Messrs. Watkins are co-principals of schools at Sturgis. Mr. Vaughn is the county school superintendent of Webster county. Mr. Rice is one of Kelsey's most enterprising citizens who is well known to our readers, and Mr. Cummings is a commercial salesman who travels out of St. Louis. The contestants were all unknown to the judges.

The first prize, a beautiful gold medal, was awarded to J. H. Yates, the third speaker of the evening, and the second prize, a handsome silver medal was awarded to Miss Ina Price, daughter of Jas. E. Price, and the first speaker on the program.

The contest was one of the closest ever witnessed by the citizens of Marion. Not a single speaker of the evening evidenced a single weak point in their manner of delivery, and with trained voices that were round and clear each one acquitted his or herself with merit, and with credit to his or her respective place of leadership in Marion Graded School. Each time when a speaker had done, it seemed to the audience that none had or could do better.

Howard-Bass.

Married at the residence of E. B. Blackburn on Poplar street, Adger Howard to Miss Tommie Bass, on the 22nd, Rev. U. G. Hughes officiating.

The groom is a successful young farmer of the Ennauas neighborhood.

The bride is a beautiful young lady of Tyner's Chapel neighborhood.

We wish them much success through life.

The Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition

By OLIN D. WHEELER

It has taken a hundred years for the United States to come to something like a real conception of what Lewis and Clark, the leaders in the exploration of the West, did for their country.

A brief statement of the route of the expedition led by these young men establishes, prima facie, its great importance, and the actual results fully equalled all that could have been expected.

From the mouth of the Missouri River, the expedition, starting on May 14, 1804, ascended that stream to Fort Mandan, a point about fifty miles above Bismark, N. D., remaining during the winter of 1804-5 among the Mandan and Grosventre Indians.

The party then followed the Missouri and its western prolongation, the Jefferson river, to what they, naturally enough but erroneously, considered its source, crossed the Rockies to the headwaters of Salmon river in Idaho, re-crossed the range into the Bitter-root Valley, Montana, descended that valley nearly to Missola, crossed the Bitter-root range to the west by the Lolo—Travelers' rest—Creek and Pass, reached the Kootenai, or Clearwater river, near the mouth of its north fork, and descended that stream, the Snake and Columbia rivers to the sea. Spending the winter of 1805-6 at Fort Clatsop, near Astoria, the party on the return journey ascended the Columbia to the Willamette river, whence Clark explored the latter to the suburbs of Portland. Then, with some changes of route, the expedition returned to the mouth of Lolo Creek. From that point Lewis, with a sub-party, cut across the mountains by way of the Hellgate and Big Blackfoot rivers and the Lewis and Clark's Pass to Great Falls, and, after exploring the Marias river nearly to the mountains and having a fight with the Blackfoot Indians, descended the Missouri to the mouth of the Yellowstone. Clark and the remainder, with another change of route, retraced their old course to the Missouri river proper at Three Forks, near Logan, Montana, and then, crossing the mountains by way of the Bozeman Pass to Yellowstone river at Livingston, descended that stream to its mouth, where they made junction with Lewis. The reunited party then rapidly proceeded down the Missouri and reached St. Louis on September 23, 1806.

It will be noted at once that in this long, circuitous course the explorers pretty thoroughly covered the Northwest, and their discoveries stand to-day as monuments of their rarely conscientious discharge of duty. The number of miles traveled by the expedition was, undoubtedly, between 9,000 and 10,000 miles, excluding ordinary hunting trips.

Briefly, some of the objects of the exploration were to explore the Missouri and Columbia rivers and their principal branches; take the latitude and longitude of important points; make a study of the Indian tribes; observe closely the country explored, and note its possibilities relative to the fur trade, etc., and study its fauna, flora, geology, and meteorology. Lewis was particularly enjoined to treat the Indians with kindness and consideration and to attach them, by all means possible, to the United States to whom they now owed allegiance.

All this was scrupulously done. At the mouths of the large streams like the Osage, Kansas, Platte, Grand, and Yellowstone rivers, some of them the sites of future cities, they halted to make astronomical observations.

Important discoveries in natural history were made and councils of the utmost gravity were held with the Indian tribes encountered. All their experiences were set down in their journals with great fidelity, and their narrative gains in interest and value with advancing years even as wine improves with age.

The Lewis and Clark Expedition, to be held at Portland, Oregon, June 1 to October 15, 1905, draws attention to the remarkable contrast between the West and the Northwest of 1804-6 and that of the present day. Then St. Louis was a mere village with but one or two French settlements lying above it on the Missouri river. No steamboat had yet stemmed the current of the Father of Waters, nor, indeed, of the Hudson; not a rod of railway had been laid in the United States nor had a telegraph pole been set up. The plains beyond St. Louis were in the keeping of the Indian and buffalo, and the mountain region still beyond was almost a thing of imagination. The great days of the mountain fur trade were to come—were, in truth, waiting for Lewis and Clark to open the way.

The Puget Sound and the lower Columbia river regions were known only from the tales of the old sea-roving explorers and a few traders. There were then no Seattle, Tacoma, Olympia, Victoria, Everett, Astoria nor Portland.

The vast empire of civilization, agriculture mining and commerce, as we know it, was then but a potentiality, and one, probably, largely unsuspected. In the mutations of time there has been evolved from the region explored by Lewis and Clark, in one century, a collection of States which, under the guidance of Providence, we hope will exert a benign and a controlling influence upon the prosperity and history of the country that this band of explorers so faithfully served.

Aside from the leaders there were some intrepid spirits in that exploring band. Among the more noted and worthy were Sergeant Gass, John Colter, George Drewyer—or Drouillard more correctly—George Shannon, the Fields brothers, and Sacagawea, the Shoshone Indian woman, who was both guide and interpreter at certain stages of the journey, and who carried a boy papoose from Fort Mandan to the coast and back again.

Sacagawea, the Bird Woman, stands out in a peculiarly strong and striking way and invests the exploration with a tinge or flavor that would be sadly lacking were it not for her sturdy, wholesome, virtuous personality. Her white sisters of the Northwest purpose to honor her virtues and sacrifices by a statue at the exposition.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

by local applications, as they can not reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

How to Fight the Tobacco Trust.

The following letter was written for the Farmers' Home Journal by a prominent farmer of Crittenden county:

Editor Farmers' Home Journal:—I see there is still a hitch in the money arrangements of the Tobacco Growers' Association, and I can't see why the Tobacco Growers have to go East after their money. It does seem to me if they would get in a business shape, the home banks could and would finance them. If they are organized by counties each county could be financed by the banks of their respective counties. The East may agree to furnish the money—but not unless they are allowed to run everything and have a large share for themselves.

There is one thing certain, the farmers had just as well make up their minds that this will be a fight to the finish. The trust has been making arrangements for some time for this fight, and it is well organized and fully prepared to carry this fight, as it claims, to a successful end.

I would have more faith in the farmers if they would only stand by each other till the last moment. Two-thirds of the farmers well organized, can and should carry their present plans to a successful point and I do hope, for the good of all, that they will come to the rescue of their leaders, who are making this fight for their benefit. And I really do think if an intelligent farmer refuses to come up like a man, and do all he can for the cause, he should be drummed out of the country. If the trust thought the farmers had any back bone to stand up for their interest and fight to the last ditch, they would not bring on this fight, but would ask at once for a compromise.

The trust is just as much bound to have the tobacco at a fair price as the farmer is to sell it and more so. For they have millions of dollars tied up in their plants all over the world, and to cut off their supply of tobacco for any length of time would simply bankrupt them; and now is the time to put up your fight, as this crop is not a large one and the supplies of the trust in the way of stocks on hand are very small on this side of the waters and growing smaller all the time on the other side. If the farmers will only stand by their leaders in this fight for one year, their interests will be safe. Now will you farmers come up like men and stand by your organization? And if necessary, put up your money? See to it that you are successful in this move, and do not stand back ready to receive the benefits after the organization has been successful. Any farmer who fails to do his part does not deserve to be called or treated as a farmer. Now come up farmers and along with you bring your merchants, your doctor, your blacksmith, your minister, and last but not least, your banker, and all of your county officers; bring them all into the fight, for they are as much interested as you are. You simply grow your tobacco to get the money to pay your bills and bank claims, and if you fail to get a fair price for your produce, they fail to get all their money—and you have to be carried from one year to another, and it makes it hard on all. So every man or set of men who are looking to the farmer for their support, should say to the farmer, "Go ahead, we are back of you, fight to the last ditch, and we will stay with you." This is the spirit that must exist to successfully fight the trust.

Now come up all of you merchants, doctors, bankers and the rest of you who are depending on the farmers to keep all of the wheels rolling. This is certainly not the farmers' fight alone, but a family fight if I look at it right. And if the entire family will take a full hand it will be a success, otherwise it will not. And all I have to say is, if you will not come up like men and do your duty, you deserve defeat, and to be hewers of wood and drawers of water the remainder of your lives. Yours in the faith,

TRAVELERS BECOME COSTIVE!

The change in diet and drinking water, the motion of the cars, the irregular habits of travelers, no matter whether they travel on business all the time or for pleasure occasionally, usually result in a constipated condition of the bowels or some stomach or bowel trouble. Travelers should always have a bottle of with them. It is a pleasant liquid laxative and a certain cure for sick headache, train sickness and all stomach trouble. Your druggist sells it in 50 Cent and One Dollar bottles.

W. P. Gaines of Little Rock, Ark., Traveling Salesman for the Smith-Premier Typewriter Co., writes: "While traveling through western Arkansas, in February last, I had a severe attack of Acute Indigestion. There was no doctor at hand, and I was suffering terribly. Your agent handed me a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin which at that time was unknown to me. I took two doses and was relieved at once, and I want to say now that when I am on the road I am never without a bottle of Syrup Pepsin in my grip. I consider it as essential as my order book, and can find nothing equal to it for Stomach Trouble and Constipation."

Teachers' Training Class

BY REV. JAS. F. PRICE

Between the lessons for February 19 and 26 there lie eleven months of the busiest part of Christ's life. John records but little in common with the other evangelists. Their record is rather full on the Galilean ministry, hence this skip in this gospel of nearly a year. The following is a list of the events between these two lessons in their chronological order:

1. Disciples plucking grains on the Sabbath.
2. Man with a withered hand healed.
3. Council of Pharisees.
4. Fame of Christ.
5. All night prayer.
6. Choosing the twelve.
7. Sermon on the mount.
8. Coming down from the mount.
9. Enters Capernaum.
10. The centurion's servant healed.
11. The widow's son raised.
12. Report of John's disciple.
13. John the Baptist's last message.
14. Christ's last testimony to John.
15. Woman anointing Christ.
16. Second preaching tour.
17. Companions on second preaching tour.
18. Christ enters the house followed by multitudes.
19. Christ heals the blind and dumb demoniac.
20. His kinsmen accuse him of insanity.
21. Disputes with scribes and Pharisees.
22. Scribes and Pharisees demand a sign.
23. Christ's true disciples his true kindred.
24. Parables by the sea.
25. Christ's departure.
26. Christ stilling the tempest.
27. The Gadarene demoniac healed.
28. Christ's return.
29. Matthew's Feast.

Fraud Exposed.

A few counterfeiters have lately been making and trying to sell imitations of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, and other medicines, thereby defrauding the public. This is to warn you to beware of such people, who seek to profit, through stealing the reputation of remedies which have been successfully curing disease for over 35 years. A sure protection to you is our name on the wrapper. Look for it, on all Dr. King's, or Bucklen's remedies, as all others are mere imitations. H. E. BUCKLEN & CO., Chicago, Ill., and Windsor, Can.

No New Thing

But the same old John Wesley that was born more than two centuries ago in England who after nine years of hard labor with the poor, with the children, drove from place to place, rotten-egged, abused by the people, swept out of doors for preaching the truth, and who came over to Georgia to preach and convert the Indians. He preached and worked there two years. He found out by being in company with some Moravians that his religion did not save him from the fears of death. He returned to England and this is what he said: "But what did I learn myself? I went to America to convert others, but was never converted myself." Peter Bohler, a Moravian, was his spiritual father.

The doctrine of justification by faith has been kept as a lamp of celestial fire in their experience, so like a two-edged sword it cut down this great, learned man, and he had to cry out like the publican, "God be merciful to me a sinner."

In November, 1729 they had formed a society of Methodists, as they were called, composed of four, John Wesley, Charles Wesley, Morgan and Kirkman, John Wesley being at the head of this "holy club." And they took as their guide book the Bible. They found that without holiness of heart and life no man could see God. So, upon this doctrine the Methodist church stands today—repentance, justification, regeneration and sanctification.

Maven Gugen was clear in the experience of sanctification for which he was put in prison four years. Adam Clark said: "If the Methodists give up preaching entire sanctification they will soon lose their glory." Mr. Wesley and the early writers of the church were clear in pronouncing Christian perfection to be a second blessing. He said: "In five weeks five in one hand received the second blessing and again this morning one found peace and one received the second blessing."

Bishop Asbury wrote to the Rev. Henry Smith to preach sanctification directly and indirectly in every sermon.

Bishop McKendrell wrote to Sumnerfield to preach a full salvation from all sin.

George Fox was put in prison for preaching holiness, nearly a hundred years before the Wesleys began to preach this doctrine.

Samuel Rutherford said more than two hundred years ago that Christ is more to be loved for giving us sanctification than justification for he maketh us more like himself, in his own image in sanctification. So you see the good Lord has had some holiness people all the time.

Bishop Soul was a great man in this work. Sanctification is plainly taught in the New Testament. I. Thess. 4:3, II. Thess. 2:13, Rom. 15:16, Acts 26:18. This is God's work done in the regenerated part by the Holy Ghost, and Paul called it a second "benefit" or "grace." II. Cor. 1:15. "Warning every man and teaching every man in all wisdom, that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus." Col. 1:28. This blessing comes by consecration and faith in his word, John 17:17. No wonder Bishop McKendrell wrote to Sumnerfield to preach a full salvation from all sin. This takes in the whole man, I.

Grave Trouble Foreseen.

It needs but little foresight to tell that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead, unless you take the proper medicine for your disease, as Mrs. John A. Young, of Clay, N. Y., did. She says: "I had neuralgia of the liver and stomach. My heart was weakened and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric Bitters I found just what I needed, for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women. Sold under guarantee by R. F. HAYNES', druggist, at 50c a bottle.

A FOOLISH PLAN

"It is a joy to eat—I welcome my dinner hour; because I rout indigestion with August Plover!"

Constipation is the result of indigestion, biliousness, flatulency, loss of appetite, self-poisoning, anemia, emaciation, uric acid, neuralgia in various parts of the system, catarrhal inflammation of the intestinal canal and numerous other ailments that rob life of its pleasures if they do not finally rob you of life itself.

"I'm bound in the bowels," is a common expression of people who look miserable and are miserable—yet who persist in "letting nature take its course."

What a foolish plan, when nature could be aided by the use of Green's August Plover, which is nature's own remedy for constipation and all stomach ills.

August Plover gives new life to the liver and insures healthy stools.

Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists.

For Sale by WOODS & ORME.

Thess. 5:23 and he gives the reason for it. Heb. 12:14, "follow peace with all men, and holiness without which no man shall see the Lord." So you see this is no new nor modern doctrine as some call it—it is as old as the Bible. Glory to God in the highest, peace and good will to all men. I am glad that in this twentieth century men will preach this doctrine. Oh! that God would give us more men and women that would preach and live this doctrine.

Then the saloons would have to go. God pity a people that has to be kept out of the mud by saloons. There is only one remedy and that is to get the church right.

Now in 1784 when Mr. Wesley prepared the articles of religion for the Methodist church of the United States, they were so fixed that no conference was allowed to change them. There have been some new laws made, yet not all of them for the best.

Some strange things happened in 1890. A preacher said when the soul was regenerated it was as pure as it would ever be and the Nashville Advocate thought it was so and published it. Consistency is a jewel. The preacher may have belonged to the Methodist church, but he was not a Methodist. Not one of our standard books endorsed by the church teach any such doctrine. We don't start preachers out on that line at all—that preacher is in the wrong pasture. He ought to go with Mr. Zenzendorf; he has forgotten the vow he took at the Methodist altar standing before the Bishop with the Bible in his hand answering the questions. Do you expect to be made perfect in this life? I do, was the answer. Are you craving after it? I am, was the answer. This is just what they say. It is strange how men will do—no wonder the world is not saved from sin, when our preachers, teachers and leaders preach, teach and vote as they do. Hear the word of the Lord, "for if the trumpet should give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to the battle? I. Cor. 14:8. God in his infinite wisdom and mercy has so woven together the Bible that you can't take out this or that doctrine without destroying the whole truth of the Bible. Oh, that men would stop and think and repent, quit sin, love God and do right.

Jesus is coming back—he said he would—not to die for men but to get the good people. Where will the holiness fighters and sinning church members go? "The soul that sinneth shall die." "He that committeth sin is of the devil." I. John 3:8. Now the thing to do is to repent, get regenerated or born again.

This saves us from actual sin and puts us on the road to heaven. But remember that we are commanded to go on into perfection, Heb. 6:1, "Not as though I have already attained either, were already perfect, but I follow after it that I may apprehend that for which also I am apprehended of Christ Jesus.

"Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended, but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind and reaching forth unto those things which are before. I press toward the mark for the prize of the high-calling of God in Christ Jesus." Phil. 3:12-14. Now hear him in the next verse, "Let us therefore as many as be perfect be thus minded." verses 15-16. Remember that Paul was not dying when he wrote this chapter either.

Regeneration is the introduction of the new life in the soul. Sanctification is the death of the old nature and its eradication from the soul.

But city folks had rather indorse licensed saloons and have their streets and pavements fixed than to give up sin—than to let holiness preachers preach in their church. "But if the watchman see the sword come and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned; if the sword come and take any person from among them, he is taken away in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at the watchman's hand."—Eze. 33:6. Will teachers and preachers please read the warning!

This, the 20th century, was born with the doctrine of entire sanctification standing at the church door of every denomination of christians. Bishop Taylor told it in Africa; Amanda Smith told India; Parson Simpson proclaimed it to the Presbyterians, and Dr. Gordon let the Baptists know of it. Chas. Finney, A. B. Earle and Coughly spread it abroad. Jno. Fisk, Alford Cookman, and Carradine published it to millions, and Dwight Moody sounded it out where the English language is spoken. It is being told in China, Japan, and Corea. There is a little blaze of holy fire kindled in Cuba and Manilla. The Keswick movement is spreading it in Europe; Simpson's missionaries are carrying it around the world. The Holy Ghost is standing at your door—what will you do with him? He is before you as Jesus was before Pilate—can you afford to wash your hands and turn him away?

"Wherefore He sayeth, awake thou that sleepest; and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee life." Eph. 5:14.

This is "no new thing," but a truth that faces every individual.

Yakima Valley, Washington

is the most attractive irrigation proposition in the United States. All but tropical fruits grow luxuriantly, while alfalfa is a sure and profitable crop. Twenty acre ranches can be purchased for $1,000 on easy terms. The Northern Pacific Railway traverses the entire length of the valley, thus ensuring good transportation facilities. Good schools and churches abound, and rural mail routes are established throughout the valley, which will soon be one large village. Thunderstorms are rare, and cyclones are unknown. The climate, which is very mild, is extremely beneficial to consumptives and those afflicted with bronchial and catarrhal troubles.

WE HAVE COME TO STAY!

We believe we have already proven this to the entire satisfaction of our subscribers, and particularly to those subscribers who patronized our predecessor, the "Republican."

Now, we have another message for our friends, one and all, and we hope it shall come as a pleasant surprise to them. It is this: We contemplate changing from a weekly issue to semi-weekly issue sometime soon and propose now to take our friends into our confidence.

Two things are necessary to insure the success of a newspaper publication of any kind, and just as important to the county paper as to the large city daily. They are:

First, Capital sufficient to insure continued publication of all the news that is essential to fulfill its special mission, and guarantee full value to its constituency.

Second, Patronage sufficient to indicate that the publication is filling a requirement or desire of the people.

Both of these conditions have been met in the publication of the RECORD, and our success is assured, —is an accomplished fact.

We now face a new epoch in our career, and as before we shall fulfill the first requirement in the establishment of a semi-weekly paper, and leave to the public's good judgment the question of patronage sufficient to make the venture a success.

In order to handle at a minimum cost the increased business this change will occasion and at the same time enable us to furnish two weekly issues at the same price charged heretofore for one weekly issue, we are placing orders for new type, and for additional machinery, such as a folding and cutting machine, mailing machine, etc. We also hope to see the day when a linotype machine will adorn our printing office, enabling us to print a daily edition, and we have every reason for also hoping that this day shall not be a great distance in the future.

These various improvements will add several thousand dollars to the cost of our printing establishment, but we are ready and willing to meet this condition, or any condition occasioned by the demands of Marion as a rapidly growing city, and the district as an important mining center.

The promise of greater activity in the mining business this coming spring and summer than we have ever witnessed before has indicated plainly to us the positive demand for greater frequency of publication of the RECORD.

We shall continue our policy of dealing as accurately and impartially with all questions and all issues as we have heretofore.

Tell your friends about the proposed change to a semi-weekly issue, for the same price as charged heretofore, and get them interested in our Popularity Contest.

Remember, our success will also be your gain.

JUST A NICKLE.

One day last week Harry Steele, a slip of a boy who shines shoes in the streets, stopped one of the county officials and said, "Mr. —, do you reckon they will ever clear Caleb Powers?" After being told that he hoped so, the boy said, "Well, I do too. When they was making up that money the other day I didn't have but a nickel, but I give him that. I don't guess a nickel will make any difference to him but that is all I had."

Ah, Powers, your case is never hopeless as long as boys like this give you freely and in sympathy all they have. Would to God that every cent that is given were given in the same spirit. That mysterious spirit that is supreme in children, told this boy that Powers was wronged and had little show, but down in his heart he resolved to do all he could to help him.

This one act is one of the grandest sermons ever given to a man or men. What though but one man heard it. It may have touched a chord never heard before. What though the world had never heard of it. It went to the throne above and was registered there, for "God loveth a cheerful giver." "When saw we thee a hungered and fed thee, naked and clothed thee, thirsty and gave thee drink."

When the people who give to this cause, or to any cause give for pity's sake and for the sake of humanity and religion, and not for the sake of having their names published with large amounts opposite, so the world may know, then, and not before will the cause succeed. And he who thinks he has given much to Power's cause, may well ask himself if this 5 cents is not worth more than all his dollars.

This boy's life is before him. What he will do and amount to remains to be seen. But whatever his sins may be, I believe that this one act in the final judgment will cover a multitude of sins. For the Word has said that "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

WHAT ADVERTISING DID AND WHAT IT WILL DO

Thirty-five years ago antelope grazed in Fresno county, California. Thirty-two years ago there was but one house in the town of Fresno in the central desert of California. Today Fresno is the center of a community of 8000 homes and of industries yielding $14,000,000 annually. French Strother describes the wonderful development of that region, largely through irrigation; its olive and raisin-growing, its scientific diversified farming, etc., and presents views of life there enough to start folks thinking California-wise. He notes that the most potent element in the development of the resources of Fresno county is the public sense of the value of persistent advertising, and tells how the Chamber of Commerce, the railroads and individuals have joined to attract desirable new people. Mr. Strother's article in itself is a first-class advertisement of Fresno, and it is worthy of serious study by communities in the South which have many more natural advantages than Fresno, but have not yet acquired the knack of making those advantages widely known.

If the Chamber of Commerce, the railroads and individuals combined in their efforts to build Fresno from the center of a desert to a city of 8000 homes. We certainly should be able to build a greater city in the center of a fertile, agricultural and mineral field.

In an article in THE RECORD some time ago, concerning Marion's opportunity. Mr. C. H. Whitehouse stated that even the desert can be made to bloom by proper effort. He must have known of Fresno.

We have our Commercial Club, but it is of but recent origin, and one poor, lone railroad, but even that is not kept overly busy hauling away our products and hauling to us our few necessities.

What we need is more public enterprise, and stronger support of those who are willing to work for the advancement of Marion and outlying district.

With the natural advantages which we possess and with combined and thoroughly organized effort, and a modest expenditure of labor and money in advertising to the world at large these exceptional advantages which we possess, we certainly ought to do half as well as people located in the center of a desert. We have not yet shown this capability for doing half as well.

Now, the past will forever remain in the dead past, but the future is all before us, a future bright with promise, and fraught with opportunities for all of us to share in the prosperity which will come with concentrated effort and energy.

Our Commercial Club has made the beginning and is now engaged in the making of history, the history of many needed improvements for Marion, Crittenden county, and the district in general.

But neither one man, a dozen men nor a body of fifty or more men can do all that is required to bring this district up to the fullest enjoyment of its excellent resources.

A few may plan but the multitude must execute what has been planned. This is applicable particularly to the good roads movement.

A few have organized a strong, energetic and enterprising Commercial Club to bring about needed improvements and to bring the advantages of the district to the notice of the investing and consuming public.

We have said this will be a second Birmingham. Let us also follow the example of Fresno and make promises realities.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Crittenden Press, came out this week under date of February 26th. We don't consider a Sunday edition complete without a colored comic section, but the enterprising publisher will no doubt add this feature later on.

Friday at Moscow, Grand Duke Sergius, uncle and brother-in-law of Emperor Nicholas, and chief of the reactionaries, met a terrible death being blown to death with a bomb. The assassin was arrested and refuses to give his name, but glories in the deed.

The Czar's mother has been notified by a letter that she will be the next one to be assassinated.

A Card to Voters.

TO THE VOTERS OF CRITTENDEN COUNTY:

I take this method of asking the nomination for re-election to the office of County Attorney at the primary to be held Saturday, April 1st, 1905. The duties of the office will prevent me making a thorough canvass of the county. I would like to serve the good people of Crittenden county one more term and to anyone who may see fit to support me for the nomination, I assure you the support will be very much appreciated and if I am nominated and elected for another term, I will endeavor to serve the people fairly and impartially. CARL HENDERSON.

Notice.

Salem School.
At the termination of my school I found the following pupils named to make an average of 90 per cent and above for the term, six months, which signifies a complectory of grade:
GRADE 9—Edna Gray, Russell Gray, Verdia Guill and Ruth McChesney.
GRADE 8—Edna Gray, Verdia Guill, Nettie Mitchell, Russell Gray, Ethelene Boaz, Mariah Linley, Mae Eberle and John Travis.
GRADE 7—Jake Farris, Ruth McChesney, Lucile Linley, Charline Hayden and Mark Pierce.
After examining the above named pupils, I found each ready for a higher grade, respectively. I also found the pupils very courteous to me both in school and out.
Numbering 126 that were enrolled, with an average attendance of 88 for the full term, I hazard nothing in saying that I enjoyed the work very much with the pupils, the readiness of the patrons and trustees and the pleasant association of the citizens.
So with a kindness to the citizens and friends, my deepest respect to the trustees and patrons and heaps and heaps of love for the pupils,
RICHARD ROBERT CHAMPION.
A Call.
The executive committee of the county Sunday school convention is called to meet next Monday at 2:00 o'clock in Blue & Nunn's office. R. M. FRANKS, County Pres.
Mrs. Mary Phelps and little children, of Colorado Springs, who had been guests of relatives at Carrsville, were in the city Monday en route to Crestline, Ohio, to visit friends.
We have just received a car load of American Field Fence. Every body says that this is the best fence on the market, and we believe it. If it was not the best we would quit selling it. All who have purchased fence of us, come at once before it is all gone as prices are advancing and will come higher.

FIFTEEN UNDER DEATH SENTENCE

Two More Convictions Breaking the Record in This State.

At the beginning of this week there were thirteen men awaiting execution in Kentucky, most of them for murder. Up to last Friday two more had been given death sentences, making fifteen at one time and breaking the record in this state.
The two new ones added to the list were Garth Tompkins, col., at Madisonville, for the murder of Jim Brame, col., and James Pearsall, at Lexington, for criminal assault upon Mrs. Wagoner on Jan. 20th. Justice in this case was swift and the jury was out only twenty minutes.
At Owensboro, Roy Green, col., the first of the fifteen to swing, met death on the scaffold, leaving fourteen more yet under sentence. Another will be hanged today.

DEATH

Strikes Down Husband and Wife Follows Eleven Days After.

C. E. Towery, of near Shady Grove, died Wednesday, Feb. 8, of rheumatism and consumption. He was a native of this county and a very prosperous farmer. At the home of his death he was 63 years of age. He was twice married and is survived by five children by his first marriage. Mesdames Geo. D. Kemp, and Sam Asher, Messrs. W. M., Gabe and Ed Towery. By his last marriage, two small children, a boy and a girl.
Several years ago Mr. Towery and his first wife who is still living, parted and agreed upon a mutual division of their property. On his portion of the farm he built a residence and later married a widow who was the mother of four children, Wesley, John, Harrison and Jake Thompson.
This union was blessed by the two small children mentioned and was a happy one until death separated them to soon meet again.
Last Sunday, Feb. 19, Mrs. Towery, who was suffering with la grippe at the time of her husband's death, suddenly died and the chief cause was supposed to be heart trouble.

A Yellow Dog To Bark Against You

Do you realize that the science of advertising and job printing has expanded and developed to a point where it demands the best thought of some of the best men in business, literature and art?

Do you realize that advertisements cannot be satisfactorily presented to the public unless dressed in the newest and best of modern types, and that no amount of time spent in juggling old type faces can change this fact?

Do you realize that the public is too smart to be fooled, and only the best will command its attention?

The best work goes out only from the best equipped printing offices. We offer you the privilege and it is your opportunity to secure it at that sort of an office.

Every time you send out stationery printed with out-of-date or worn type you send out a yellow dog to bark against you—as long as he barks you will lose business—when he bites you will close your doors.

Leading advertisers and business men can obtain results and take no chances by advertising in The Crittenden Record and patronizing its Job Department.

The Business Career and the Chances of Success

By THOMAS F. BOYLE.

Successful Merchant and Trustee of Boston Public Library.

It seems fair to say that where one young man makes a distinct success of a professional career no fewer than a hundred young men are equally successful in business. This may be explained perhaps to some extent by the fact that there are many more persons engaged in business than in professions, but after this has been allowed for, the success in business is very much more frequent than the success in professional life.

It is perfectly apparent that the kind of talent which is required for professional success is quite different from that which the young man may employ to advantage in business. The same kind of character, of course, is required of every successful man. He must be honest, truthful and fair, to reap the full measure of success in life, in whatever paths his interests may lie. But so far as talent alone is concerned, that which enables a man to succeed in a profession may often be wholly inadequate to success in business, and that which brings success in business may bring no satisfactory reward in a profession.

To be a successful lawyer or doctor, a young man must have more than industry and diligence and application; he must have some peculiar adaptability, or it would be better to say, perhaps, that he must have some distinct genius for his work. A merely industrious, diligent, faithful worker in law or medicine will doubtless earn a good living, but the prizes of distinction will be beyond his reach.

Now, as for the young man entering upon a business career, it may be predicted of him from the beginning that if he has a fair endowment of the more than ordinary virtues or talents, and if he is honest, painstaking, enterprising and energetic, that young man will succeed. We have all seen such young men rise steadily, and often rapidly, to the highest places in the business world.

It is not absolutely necessary for a man to be highly educated to be a success in business. On the contrary, hundreds of our most successful merchants have had only an ordinary schooling. However, I would advise and encourage every young man to get a business school training, if possible, before he embarks in mercantile life. It will certainly stand by him later on. Natural ability and shrewdness are very important factors in the makeup of a business man, and go a long way in shaping his business career.

The average young man who starts in business makes more of a success in life, gets more satisfactory returns for the expenditure of energy, leads a busier, more comprehensive, more interested life on the whole than the average young man who devotes himself to a profession.

We cannot all be geniuses; some of us must be "business men." As a matter of fact, the most of us will have to be content to be numbered among those who must rely for success in life upon the commoner virtues, the more ordinary talents.

In my opinion, the field that offers the richest rewards for those virtues and those talents is the field of business. If a boy is possessed of striking powers of mind, let him by all means be trained for a profession in which he can display these gifts, but my own observation leads me to believe that there is a great waste of useful human material involved in the effort, which has become so general among us, to try to make great lawyers and doctors out of young men who have no genius for such things, but who have plenty of talent that would enable them to succeed in the broader field of business.

Volunteer Charity Worker

By FREDERICK ALMY.

Chairman Committee on Public Dependence, Buffalo.

gent, and custody has become more humane, and even curative; but these have remained the types.

If all the personal work, so essential to wise charity, as we now understand it, is to be done by paid service, we should have a payroll that would break the credit, financial as well as moral, of any public official or private society. The development of responsible volunteer service is now the goal of private charity, but public charity, which can both compel and persuade such service more easily than private charity, is as yet blind to the need and indifferent to its opportunity. The reaction against mere relief and mere custody has as yet hardly reached the public official. If his inmates are well cared for, or if his largess is honestly and prudently given out, he thinks his duty done. Sixty or more replies to inquiries made to public officials in New York and New England, outside of Massachusetts, show little use of volunteers and much prejudice or indifference.

As a rule, private charity wants volunteer aid, but dreads it as desultory and ignorant, while public charity neither wants it nor fears it sufficiently.

Modern Civilization Psychic

By DR. O. P. GIFFORD.

Noted Buffalo Minister.

Modern civilization is not material, but psychic. There are many people on the church rolls who do not understand what a spiritual life is. There are men in our great universities who can think, write and teach. They understand logic, they take delight in argumentation, but when they listen to a spiritual sermon a dazed look comes over the face of the psychic. The psychic is a spiritual idiot. He understands material learning, but he has no use for a prayer meeting.

There are three kinds of life. The spiritual life, the intellectual life and the physical life. With the intellect we reason, with the spirit we know the body, the spiritual limits make possible the soul, as the shores of Lake Michigan limit but make possible the lake.

Some men are living always in the passive. They have forfeited their power of choice. They are derelicts on the sea of time, depending upon the current for their action. They have lost their power of decision. There is no sadder sight than such a man. He wants to do right, but cannot; he prays while you pray; he curses when you curse; he is sober while the arms of your sobriety enfold him; he is drunk when the intoxicating cup is offered.

Love Is an Inherent Quality of the Human Race

By DR. CARLETON SIMONS,
A Noted Alienist.

LOVE is not the product of reason. History proves this, and psychology, with its fund of medical and other data, so declares. Love is an instinct. An instinct can only be changed by another instinct working in a contrary direction. Experience, habit and reason never control an instinct, but only modify it.

The primal evidence of love exists in the smallest atom of the universe, in the invisible gases, in everything that is within and without vision. This attractive force in chemistry is termed chemical affinity; in electricity, electric polarity, and in matter, physical attraction.

In the animal kingdom the attraction of one animal for another of the opposite sex is termed mating instinct. It is a pairing off process involving sex purely. This is instinctive, with slight, if any, mental selection entering into the choice.

In human beings the sexual attractive force, while being basically the instinctive power behind the attraction, is tempered, supplemented and changed through the agency of the mind.

The mentality and special sense of speech in human beings enable them to appreciate, admire and love qualities of the opposite sex which, although they enhance and stimulate the animal force of attraction, yet relegate the same largely to the background and bring forward other aesthetical shades of differences in individuals and various special attractive qualities of the mind. We may see this partly exemplified in the attractiveness that beauty holds for all when to it is added refinement.

The psychological study of love and its physical effect are problems of importance in the study of disease because they so deeply affect the mind in its relation to the general physical economy. It is a law well established that "anything that excites an instinct excites an emotion as well." This is why emotional natures are more deeply affected. Thus we find in individuals who have misplaced their affections, or believe they have, a temporary, and in some instances a permanent, melancholia controlling all mental activity, resulting sometimes in suicide, and in other instances coloring life's glasses with misanthropy.

A wholesome and healthy love increases the blood pressure, stimulates the brain and develops and ennobles the latent qualities of the mind, notably in the direction of the heroic, ambitious, artistic and poetical.

Reason only controls individuals after emotion and impulses have lost their impetus. Thus emotions are prone to impressionable or inflamed minds to develop delusions of sentiment which are distinctly out of reason with the facts. Men and women, through sympathy, loneliness and idealistic bias, naturally tend toward the exaggeration of qualities and give attributes to each other which only to a minor degree are present.

It is while under the influence of these passing emotions that so many marriages are contracted, and later when the realization and reaction take place with the passing of the emotion a compensatory understanding takes place between man and wife, each fulfilling as a duty as much as he or she can the marriage vows. If this is too abhorrent divorce holds the solution. Usually, however, association with each other under a more normal aspect tends to a deeper and better comprehension of each other, with the development of any attachment and affection.

The Producer and His Wage

By JOSEPH LEE,
Boston Business Man.

We want is not work, but wages, and the wages we want are not money, but the food, clothing, music, baseball and other necessities of life that money can buy. Is there enough of these things for everybody? By enough I do not mean all a person wants. A man who has ever had all he wanted in his life must have something serious the matter with his wanting organs. I mean enough to keep him in the game, taking all that comes his way and growling for more. And if there is enough, how is a man to find a job by which he can get his share of it?

Political economists are always taking us back to Robinson Crusoe or some other solitary individual for whom the problem is comparatively simple. Suppose, for instance, you were an Eskimo watching with a spear at a blow hole for a seal who may come up next week or may never come. Obviously your share of the good things of this world depends on the expert knowledge and judgment you have shown in picking out the right hole and on your skill and nerve in striking the seal when his office hours begin. There is probably no man in Boston who could make a living, who could find "work," as we call it, under the conditions that confront the Eskimo, simply because there is no man in Boston who has had the expert training.

Now, it seems to me that mankind, taken in a lump, is in the same position as the Eskimo at the seal hole. Mankind will get enough of the good things of life on exactly one condition—that of being able and willing to produce them, to extract the raw material from the soil or the sea and put it into the required form.

If that is the problem for mankind, the problem for the individual must, on the whole and upon the average, be the same. The question is whether he can contribute his share to the general result, whether he can catch as many seals as he eats; can produce and put into the pile as much bread, baked beans, new bonnet, curve pitching, or what not, as shall be equivalent in value to what he takes out. Or at least if he takes out more than he puts in it is obvious that the next man or some other man must take less. But how to measure what is an equivalent? The measure is in the fitness of what you can produce to satisfy a human need in your ability to catch real seals and not merely dogfish or skulpins, and in the determining of this question it is the general public you are up against, not the particular employer. If your work helps to bring success you will have no difficulty in getting or holding your job.

And how to get this sort of ability? What, in our civilized life takes the place of the training the Eskimo received in the years that he followed his father about and practiced with numb fingers and aching feet until he had learned his trade? In the old days the equivalent of this was in the apprentice system. To-day I think it is increasingly to be looked for in the trade school.

Suffering Will Not Help Your Disease, but Will Weaken Your Nerves.

Folks who think it is better to bear pain than to soothe it—are wrong.

Old-fashioned doctors used to say it was better, because they had nothing with which to ease pain but dangerous, heart-paralyzing drugs.

But now, that a safe remedy has been found, Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, it is wrong to suffer, for nothing can be gained but weakened nerves.

A safe rule to remember is: When in pain, take an Anti-Pain Pill.

This will soothe your quivering nerves. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills relieve pain by restoring the natural secretions, in which they differ from opium and similar narcotic drugs, which relieve pain by checking the action of the glands.

They are sure and harmless, and are the latest medical treatment for the cure of Headache, Neuralgia, Backache, Rheumatism, Dizziness, Toothache, Stomachache, Menstrual (Monthly) Pains. Also nerve irritations like Headache, Car-Sickness, Sleeplessness, Indigestion, etc.

Pleasant to take, quick in results.

"I have used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for sick, nervous headache, and have received the best results. I heartily recommend their successful use."—REV. RAY A. WATKINS, D. D., Iowa City, Ia. Sold by druggists, at 25c. Money back if first box does not help. Never sold in bulk.

FREE Write to us for Free Trial Package of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, the New Scientific Remedy for Pain. Also Symptom Blank. Our Specialist will diagnose your case, tell you what is wrong, and how to right it. Free. DR. MILES' MEDICAL CO., LABORATORIES, ELKHART, IND.

Miracle of the Loaves and Fishes

Sunday School Lesson for Feb. 26, 1905

Prepared by the "Highway and Byway" Preacher.

(Copyright, 1904, by J. H. Eason.)

LESSON TEXT.—John 6:1-14. Memory verses, 11, 12. Read the entire chapter.

GOLDEN TEXT.—"I am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven." John 6:51.

TIME.—Nearly a year has elapsed since our last lesson. It was just before the passover, April, A. D. 33.

PLACE.—A Region on the northeast shore of the Sea of Galilee, not very far from Bethsaida.

A REMINDER.—Had this miracle and the discourse following been left out by John, how much would have been missed of evidence that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God. It were impossible to study prayerfully this portion of John's Gospel and not be led to believe in Jesus as the Son of God. For this reason, keep John 6:21 specially before you in considering this lesson.

The Lesson Outline.

THEME.—The Hungry Fed. I.—Into the Wilderness With Jesus, vs. 1-4. II.—The Hungry Multitudes, vs. 5-9. (1) Jesus' Plans, vs. 5, 6. (2) The Disciples Troubled, vs. 7-9. III.—The Multitude Fed, vs. 10-12. (1) Orderly Procedure, v. 10. (2) Loaves and Fishes Blessed, v. 11. (3) Loaves and Fishes Distributed, v. 12. IV.—The Fragments Gathered, vs. 12, 13. V.—The Multitude Impressed, v. 14.

Comparing Scripture with Scripture. I. Into the Wilderness With Jesus, vs. 1-4. The disciples went there with Jesus for rest and quiet conference. The multitude followed through curiosity. But whatever the motive which brought them they all received a blessing. Jesus never turns a soul empty away. The desert is often the place of peculiar blessing. Human need is more apparent there. Divine power is more manifest.

II. The Hungry Multitude. (1) Jesus' Plans, vs. 5, 6.—Jesus was the first to sight the on-coming multitude. Jesus seen us when a great way off. He knows the motive that brings us. But He always has plans for us. He knows just how to deal with each individual case.

(2) The Disciples Troubled, v. 7.—Matthew (14:15) tells us that the disciples wanted to send the multitudes away and let them shift for themselves. Ah, at best, how limited is our vision; how small our faith. In our Christian work, how many blessings we lose to the multitude because we do not realize Jesus' power and His willingness to supply the need. Matt. 10:8. The little lad ready to yield his small supply to Jesus, is a text and a sermon all by himself. He counted little in the eyes of the disciples, but he went into partnerships with Jesus and his little became a feast to satisfy the multitude. So it may be with us. Our gifts, our abilities may seem small, we may have grave misgivings as to their being equal to the task of ministering successfully to the multitudes about us, but if we will but put into the hands of Jesus our little we will have the joy of seeing it multiply under His touch until it has performed its most blessed ministry to all about. Our little in Jesus' hands is always sufficient.

III. The Multitude Fed. (1) Orderly Procedure, v. 10.—It has been said that "order is God's first law." That motley multitude must be subdued and arranged in orderly manner. Paul's admonition (1 Cor. 14:40) has striking illustration here.

(2) Loaves and Fishes Blessed, v. 11.—"Jesus took the loaves; and when He had given thanks," Took and blessed—a twofold act on the part of Jesus that brings amazing results. Just common barley crackers and small salt fish, and yet they fed the multitude as they passed through Jesus' hands. Just a life given in consecration into Jesus' hands to receive His blessing and behold the results. A Peter, a Paul, a Luther, a John Knox, a Finney, a Moody. He will take you and me and use us to the blessing of the multitude. John 14:12.

(3) Loaves and Fishes Distributed, v. 12.—"He distributed to the disciples and the disciples to them that were set down." The Divine order, always. From the Master's hand to ours and then to the multitude. We cannot give to the blessing of others unless we have received from His hands.

How the knowledge of this ought to bring us to reconsecrate ourselves to Him.

(4) The Fragments Gathered, vs. 12, 13.—"They were filled." Did ever soul sit down at table with Jesus spread without being filled? Ps. 23:1; Phil. 4:19. But that Jesus' bounty might not teach wastefulness He commands: "Gather up the fragments." This is an example in economy which we all have need to remember. Twelve baskets full remaining gave each of the disciples a supply to carry away. What a striking illustration of Prov. 11:24; and Luke 6:38.

IV. The Multitude Impressed, v. 14.—Who else but God could create food for the body? The multitude was willing to admit Jesus' claims of Divinity. And the following verses show how they planned to make Him their king. But with what motives? They desired Him because they had eaten of the loaves and were filled, v. 14. He wanted them to desire the bread of life, v. 27. How sad that men should be satisfied with the bread which perishes when Jesus would feed them on the living bread.

The Golden Text.

"I am the Living Bread which came down from Heaven." This declaration of Jesus commands our attention, because God has said that "Man shall not live by bread alone." When Jesus called Himself the "Living Bread," it was to announce the relations which He was to sustain to the soul. As a body was fed by bread, so He, the Living Bread, was to feed the soul. Living Bread to satisfy soul hunger, therefore, "Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they shall be filled." "Lord, evermore give us this Bread."
